FTSE concludes 4th tranche inclusion of Saudi stocks

In Case You Missed It...

Kuwait (-3.9%) declined the most last week, followed by Bahrain (-3.6%). Dubai (-2.4%) was pressured by realty and financial stocks. Oman (-0.7%) reversed the previous week's gain. Saudi Arabia (+1.2%) rebounded as the Kingdom said recent attacks on its oil facilities will not affect government revenues. Banking stocks advanced following lower interest rates by the Saudi central bank which is expected to stimulate lending. Abu Dhabi (+0.6%) rose slightly. Qatar (+0.5%) continued to be supported by domestic and foreign institutions. The US markets posted their first weekly decline in a month, as the US Fed cut interest rates by 25 bps, but suggested further rate cuts may not happen this year, and on continued uncertainty over the US-China trade deal. Dow Jones (-1.0%) was followed by Nasdaq Composite (-0.7%) and S&P500 (-0.5%). European indices closed mixed. CAC40 (+0.6%) and STOXX600 (+0.3%) edged higher, DAX (0.0%) stood flat, and FTSE100 (-0.3%) inched lower.

The Week Ahead

Regional markets

FTSE Russell's fourth tranche inclusion of Saudi stocks into its emerging markets index has been concluded on Thursday which is likely to bring positive momentum to the market. The Saudi stock market might also be supported from an announcement by Saudi Aramco which said it will fully restore crude oil output from two oil facilities damaged from attacks by September-end. Meanwhile, the two-day (23-24 September) Annual MENA Investor Conference by Arqaam Capital will be on investors' radar as it will provide them with an opportunity to interact with management of companies. On 25 September, the regional IR community will gather for the annual Middle East IR Society conference and awards.

Global markets

Investors' attention will be on the release of the US' 2Q19 GDP and durable goods orders data which will aid in gauging strength of the economy. Further, investors will closely monitor Eurozone and Germany's PMI (preliminary) numbers which may provide some visibility, if the weakness continued in the third quarter as well. Meanwhile, the British apex court will decide this week whether the UK Prime Minister acted lawfully over his bid to suspend the parliament over Brexit vote.

Ratings agency Moody's Investors Service expects GCC's asset management industry to grow at a steady rate over the next decade, driven by efforts from the region's governments as they try to diversify their economies and boost foreign investment. The ratings agency estimated that cumulative assets under management (AUM) with GCC-based investment managers stood at $260 billion as of December 2018. Of the total AUMs, slightly less than half was accounted for by Saudi Arabia, followed by Kuwait ($73 billion) and Bahrain ($56 billion). Moody's noted that the GCC asset managers mainly focus on traditional asset classes as stocks and bonds, and treat real estate as the primary alternative class.
